

"One unspayed dog and her offspring can produce 67,000 puppies in six years! Many of these puppies are abandoned, allowed to roam the streets to continue the breeding cycle and others are left at already overcrowded shelters. Nationally, only 25% of dogs at shelters are adopted. In California, over 250,000 dogs are euthanized each year. Spay/neuter is a vital step in combating the issue of animal overpopulation and euthanasia."
